MATTHEW 21:33-34

God had bestowed on his people the sort of love and care which a dedicated vine dresser bestows on a vineyard. But the vineyard failed to produce the fruits of right living. God sent messenger after messenger in the persons of the prophets. But far from listening to them, the people abused some of them and killed others. Finally he sent the Son and Heir - Jesus. But the tenants killed him in the hope of taking over the vineyard themselves.

What the tenants did was ugly and sinful Yet God did not abandon or destroy the vineyard: He handed it over to others, who would produce the fruits. Thus a new building came into being - the new people of God. Jesus, the one they rejected and killed, is the cornerstone of this new building (the Church).

God never retaliated, never returned evil for evil He was not vindictive in taking the vineyard from the Jews and giving it to the Gentiles. The tenants brought it on themselves. God never gave up on his people. Just as the rain ensures that the earth becomes fruitful, so God persists until he gets a response.

The parable shows us that there is only one way to overcome evil, and that is with good. What happens in the story is both nasty and ugly However, while there is much evil in the story, evil does not have the last say. In the end good triumphs.

No one can say that Jesus didn't live in the real world. He did. He experienced its ugliness himself. But he didn't answer it with more ugliness. He triumphed over evil by good. He has become a model for all those who suffer unjustly in the cause of right. And he challenges us, his followers, the tenants of the new vineyard (the Church), to produce the fruits of justice, love and peace. It's a great privilege and a great challenge too.
